Celebrating 100 Years of Polo at Springfield

SATURDAY 8TH & SUNDAY 9TH MAY 2021

WELCOME

GOULBURN (AIR: "THE BAM BAM BAMY SHORE")

If you want a game to tackle and you travel the world around,
There's none so thrilling, as a chukka willing,
on a grassy polo ground.
We ride from the Markdale Valleys, Font hill and Wallagorang,
And it's not too hilly, by the Wollondilly,
For the galloping Goulburn gang.
Sing ho! the ponies, gallant and gay,
Cream, black and chestnut, taffy and bay,
Oh! the bush is never lonely,
And existence is never tame.
On a woolly run, when you have some fun,
At the good old polo game.

Song written about Goulburn team competing at Countess of Dudley Cup Carnival 1927

WELCOME

Welcome to our 100-year birthday tournament!

The Mother's Day tournament offers players and attendees the opportunity to rub shoulders with the club's long history. Today, the main trophy played for is the Ashton Cup!

The Goulburn Polo Tournament has been played since 1921 and since the first ball was thrown, Goulburn has gone on to become one of the most successful polo clubs in Australia, winning the NSW State Championships more than any other club.

We have never operated for profit, instead focusing on creating one of the truly great Australian country polo experiences for our members and guests. Goulburn Polo Club offers a warmth and hospitality that keeps people coming back year after year.

It was in 1918 when as a Jackeroo at Widgiewa station in the Riverina, Irwin Maple-Brown was introduced to the game of polo by Les Falkiner.

Since then the family has been almost continuously represented on the polo field with the polo playing tradition being carried on by his first son, Jim and then by three of his grandchildren, Richard and Sarah Maple-Brown and Tim Boyd, the son of Irwin's daughter Diana and his great grandson, James.

OUR HISTORY

Following World War I, Colonel H.D.K Macartney, a brilliant artillery officer, acquired a property in the Goulburn District, to form a volunteer army unit and maintain military training. While military training was not entirely appealing, Colonel Macartney decided to form a unit polo club to entice the local young men. This became the Goulburn Artillery Polo Club, and this is how the Royal Artillery colours, red and blue, came to be the club's colours. The Colonel recruited Irwin Maple-Brown, F.W Edwards (Teddy), Dick Daniel, Jim and Bob Ashton and Percy Hoskins to be its first members and players.

Jim Bell, Irwin Maple-Brown, Jim Maple-Brown and Digby Bell

Initially, matches were held on Saturday afternoons in Goulburn, with young men coming from near and far to enjoy both a sporting and social outlet. Perhaps the most famous of these young men were the four Ashton brothers of 'Markdale' at Binda, near Crookwell. The brothers would trot the "fifty- three miles on a rough road" to Goulburn on Fridays in preparation for a weekend of competition.

The Ashton brothers showed great interest and keen skill, and by 1926, the four had become the formidable Goulburn Polo Team. By the late 1920s the allure of an international polo league was too great. The brothers embarked on an adventure that would become part of Australian sporting folklore.

OUR HISTORY

With the blessing of the Hurlingham Polo Association in Britain, the brothers took the Goulburn quarter colours and 25 ponies on a 48-day sea voyage, travelling over 21,000 kilometres to England. This was the first sporting voyage of its kind and many felt the journey was ambitious, to say the least. The British press especially doubted the expedition, believing the young farmers were doomed to lose to their British opposition, the so-called powerhouses of world polo. Impressively, the four farmers from Goulburn proved them wrong, winning 15 of 21 matches!

Following their English success, the brothers set sail for the 1930 season in the United States - where again, success ensued. By the end of their polo odyssey, the Ashtons had become an international story. Remarkably, the four brothers sold their string of ponies in the USA, covering the entire trip's expenses.

Goulburn Polo 1968

Sandy Tait, Richard Bray, Gordon Dowling, Geoff Ashton, Umpires: Tom Skene, John Boyd

John Gorman, Hector King, Jim Maple-Brown, Prince Phillip

In 1948, the Goulburn Polo and Picnic Race Club was formed with polo being played at Springfield and picnic races not too far in the future.

By 1953, the Goulburn polo of the modern era was up and running, with the 1953 Countess of Dudley cup tournament. This was held in Goulburn, with 11 teams entering and 3000 people attending the finals. The Goulburn team attended 6 tournaments during that year, winning the main cups at Austral, Orange and Young and coming runner up in the Dudley Cup.

OUR HISTORY

Goulburn first entered the Dudley cup in 1922 with a team comprising of F.P Hopkins, A.I Maple-Brown, J.H Ashton and Col. H.D.K Macartney and six years later in 1928, Goulburn had its first Dudley Cup victory. Since then, Goulburn Polo Club has become one of the most successful clubs in the history of Australian polo, having won the premier club tournament, Countess of Dudley Cup, 16 times, the record amount of times in the history of the tournament.

Richard Walker, Richard Maple-Brown and Robert Bell were the lynch pins of the renowned, highly successful Goulburn A team, sharing the honour with many players in winning numerous Dudley cups and club tournaments. Richard Walker and Richard Maple-Brown hold the personal record, with nine wins each, and Robert Bell and Jim Hoskins are not far behind with six and three wins, respectively. The original four famous Ashton brothers won four or five times in the 1920s and '30s.

GOULBURN POLO CLUB TODAY

To this day, the club provides local farmers, graziers and polo enthusiasts the opportunity to come together and compete, with many of the club's current players being descendants of the generations of players (fathers, sons and daughters) that have gone before them.

Ashton Brothers

Following their champion fathers, the most recent Goulburn A team consists of descendants, Simon Walker, Henry Bell and Sinclair Bell. Angus Campbell has also come from a long line of polo players; his father, John Campbell, who played for Goulburn, grandfather David Campbell and great great-grandfather, David Innes Watt.

PENALTIES, FOULS & CROSSING

The white player has the line, and at fair speed the black player would be crossing the line without sufficient safety margin, resulting in a penalty against black.

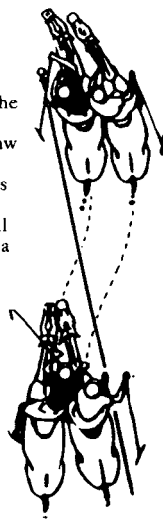

2.

Even at a far lesser angle the black player would still be crossing the line if he continues in that direction, and committing a dangerous foul.

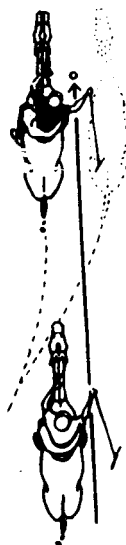

3.

When travelling in the same direction the black player may draw level with white and then force him across the line and take possession of the ball without committing a foul or incurring a penalty.

4.

The black player may move in parallel with the line and play a shot, providing he can do so without interfering with white's mount or causing him to check back. If black should cross the line to the dotted position it would be a foul.

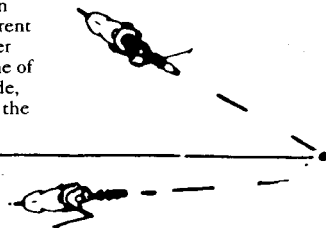

5.

Two players riding for a ball from opposite directions in the open must both give way to the left and take the ball on their right or offside.

6.

When two players are approaching a ball in the open from different directions, the player (Black), with the line of the ball on his offside, right hand side, has the right of way.

Angus Campbell
PRESIDENT

Jim and Pamela Maple-Brown

Jim started playing polo the year we got engaged in 1946. He was 21 years old.

He had been a camp drafter and horse sports competitor for many years, before he started playing polo. His first game was at Kyeemah where he upset all the old gentlemen because he rode so hard, nearly breaking Jim Ashton's ankle. He was a bit rough.

Jim decided to move the Goulburn polo field from Carr's paddock to Springfield and include a racetrack. He marked out the position and in March 1952, 600 people attended a race meeting on a track that had not been there 3 weeks earlier. With Jim as president, the 25-member committee of the Goulburn Polo and Picnic Race club had been built - the field, track and stalls for 40 horses.

Jim's father Irwin, persuaded Percy Bell that his sons Jim and Digby should play polo. Irwin played with them in the first years. Then Dick Kelly joined the team. Jim, Jim, Digby and Dick were the Goulburn team for many years. No selection committee needed as there were no other players. This team went on to compete in many Dudley Cups, winning several.

Jim played in the Australian Gold Cup team in NZ, Queensland and South Australia. I don't think he ever won one.

The Goulburn Club grew and thrived, and Jim has the pleasure of playing with many people. For his final game he came out of retirement to play and win the 10 goal Hector King Tournament with his daughter Sarah, son Richard and nephew Tim Boyd.

The club, the game and especially the people he played with gave Jimmy a lot of pleasure.

Pam Maple-Brown
